ABOUT:

Taking inspiration from childhood dreams, this delicate work for young band is a perfect introduction to lyrical music, offering grouped ensemble writing and lovely melodies that all are sure to enjoy!

FROM THE COMPOSER:

Drifting into Dreamland is a lyrical piece written with the goal of relaxing and lulling the audience into a peaceful state of dreamland. The piece features sections that reminds the audience of childhood themes while keeping them relaxed and peaceful.

Note to the Director: The eighth note pattern is repeated throughout a majority of the piece helping to keep the time and steady beat. The main theme enters and is shared with different instruments emphasizing their importance. When percussion enters at m. 10 they should be present but not overpowering the melody as they are to help enhance the musical experience. At m. 17 a new melody is stated in the flute section. As you exit the middle section this melody is repeated in multiple different parts transitioning into the ending where the trumpets have the melody until the end. Remember to keep it light, happy, and dreamy sounding! I hope you enjoy this piece and bring the essence of sleep to life.

DURATION: 2'10"
